

The Scientific Journal of the FPDD – Sport and Physical Activity for All (ISSN 2183-511X), is published on behalf of the Portuguese Federation of Sports for People with Disabilities. The scope of this journal covers exercise for health, promotion of healthy lifestyles, and socialisation through sport, with a specific focus on people with disabilities. The aim of this journal is to provide a contemporary forum for high quality, impactful scholarly research relating to sport, physical activity and disability for a national and international readership.

This journal publishes research conducted in all contexts, and particularly encourages work with a focus on school physical education, sports participation, and active leisure programmes. Both original empirical and review studies will be considered for publication.
